FAQs

- How does Stranerd work?
  - Stranerd is a peer to peer learning platform designed to make learning a 'WOW' experience for every student. Studying on Stranerd removes 'stress' and inputs 'fun' into your learning process. In short, Stranerd makes school suck-less!

    Ask all the questions you want to a community of students who are available to answer, read simplified study notes on different subjects, use flashcards to memorize information faster and take test preps to practice what you have learnt!

    It's education in your pocket 😉

- How do I ask a question if my specific field of study is not in the subjects list?
  - Asides the subjects in the subjects list, you can add your tags as well. Once you ask a question and add the tag, like 'Political Science' for example, it'll get popularized and answered as well

- I noticed that the popular tags are science related? I saw mostly science subjects, and I want to know if the site is also open to art subjects?
  - Yes. When you want to ask a question, there are subject options that you can pick from. Science subjects are popular because most questions currently being asked are science related. You can ask a question on any subject and use the appropriate tags for that question so they can popularized as well

- How do I add a tag for two words(e.g fluid dynamics)?
  - Please use a hyphen for two-word tags e.g fluid-mechanics

- How long does it take for my question to get answered?
  - The goal is to have questions get answers as fast as possible. The larger the user base, the faster a question gets answered. As the number of students on the site increases, the response time per question will get shorter which means you'll get faster responses. Also, you get notified immediately your question has been answered.

➢ Can I rate answers from a question I asked?
  ○ You can rate any answer given whether it's your question or not ny using the thumbs up or thumbs down icon underneath the question

➢ Can I edit a question after posting it?
  ○ Yes! You can edit a question or an answer; however, this is before any action has been performed on it. For example, a question can only be edited before it has been answered. Once it has been answered, you cannot edit it. You can also edit an answer but only if it hasn't gotten any ratings

➢ Is there any way to debunk a wrong answer or reward only the right answer?
  ○ Yes, the person who asks the question reserves the right to mark it as the best answer - which is basically the answer that satisfies him the most.

➢ What if he decides to pick no answer as the best answer?
  ○ If the person who asks the question refuses to pick one best answer, other people can rate the answer and the highest average rating gets the coins

➢ If a user asks a question, but doesn't find any of the answers perfect or even correct, can the best answers still be selected?
  ○ If the person who asks the question refuses to pick one best answer, other people can rate the answer and the highest average rating gets the coins
    The best answers is the answer that has been rated at least 20 times with an average of 3.5 ratings

➢ Can there be more than one best answer?
  ○ Yes, two best answers can be chosen

➢ Who are Nerds?
  ○ Everyone on Stranerd is a Nerd and that includes you. You can answer questions in your field to help other students out with their homework, make use of study resources by other students and create yours to share with other Nerds in the community

➢ How do test preps work?
  ○ Test preps are a compilation of exam questions on different exam types like JAMB, WAEC, GCE etc that allows you to know your strengths or weaknesses in different subjects.

    They can either be timed or untimed depending on your need; timed exams are more suited for when you want to assess your time management skills for an exam

➢ Can I create my own study sets?
  ○ Yes you can! You can create your own study sets comprising test preps, flashcards and notes that you have added from the 'Explore' section to your own study set. You can also create your own personal study library and you have the choice to make it public or private to you alone

➢ How is my Nerd Score calculated?
  ○ Your Nerd Score is calculated considering your daily activities on Stranerd.com on a daily, weekly & monthly basis and comparing it with that of other users on the site. Increased activities means a higher Nerd Score than your friends!
